"Unsung Heroes"

Eighth Annual Wanderer Keel Awards

By Kenneth J. Souza

The Wanderer is once again pleased to announce the recipients of their Eighth Annual Wanderer Keel Awards, a yearly honor bestowed upon select "unsung heroes" in the tri-town circulation area who are sometimes overlooked or not recognized for their worthwhile achievements and contributions to the residents of Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester.

We have been soliciting nominations from our readers for the past month and have sifted through the many deserving and equally-befitting candidates. However, as our policy has dictated from the award's inception in 1994, we can only select one recipient from each of the three towns per year and those honorees cannot Above: Colonel Forrest R. Newton, USA, will be the principal speaker at the Mattapoisett Memorial Day Observances to be held on Monday, May 28 at 1:30 pm beginning outside the town's public library on Barstow Street. Colonel Newton began his long and distinguished military career in 1968 and is currently based at the Newport Naval War College in Rhode Island. (Photo courtesy of Mattapoisett/Rochester Veterans Services.)

On the cover: Olivia, Meredith and Sharon Pinard of Mattapoisett took a recent trip to Valley Forge in Pennsylvania, the historic landmark where George Washington once led his troops and set up camp during a brutal winter, just prior to his legendary "crossing of the Delaware." We're still seeking out unique photographs of our readers posing with The Wanderer ... so be sure to take along your cameras and issues as you travel this summer! Like the Pinard family, you can win yourself an official Wanderer coffee mug for your efforts! (Photo by and courtesy of Mike "Porky" Pinard).

currently benefit from their efforts in any other way. For this reason, it is not surprising that all three of this year's chosen recipients are fairly familiar faces from their past elected positions in town government ... and at least two have been suggested for past consideration. But at the time their positions as sitting elected officials disqualified them for consideration.

Times change, people move on and eventually step down from public office, and it is appropriate that the three recipients of the 2001 Wanderer Keel Award are being recognized here not just for their contributions as elected officials ... but also for the work they did on the sidelines, voluntarily and without compensation. Without further adieu, here are the three recipients of this year's Keel Awards, as nominated by town residents and selected by the editorial staff of The Wanderer.

The contributions of "Jack" DeCosta as a longtime member of the Mattapoisett Board of Selectmen could alone fill the pages of this week's issue. But those who know Jack DeCosta — and there aren't many residents in the tri-town area who don't — also know that he is equally willing to give of his time and seemingly boundless energy to commit to other projects ... many of which require a "hands on" approach. And with Jack DeCosta, actions speak louder than words.

Even though he is best-known for serving as Selectman from 1977 through 1998, Jack DeCosta is also known for all the "unofficial" town business he has done and continues to do ... from sprucing up the town squares to general repair work around Town Hall to painting and fixing town property to his work with and for area veterans, Jack is a veritable renaissance handyman, always willing to pitch in and do rather than dictate. In working part-time at the Mattapoisett Nursing Home for better than 40 years, Mr. DeCosta always goes the extra distance in greeting residents and doing any odd jobs to make their twilight years more comfortable. He often would run errands for senior citizens, help shut-ins when they couldn't get out, and remains active in St. Anthony's Church affairs ... all the while raising and caring for his Mattapoisett family.

People would often joke that Jack DeCosta would never miss a meeting ... and there's a kernel of truth in that. When it comes to someone being committed to his community, there are few like Jack DeCosta ... a man some have dubbed "Mr. Mattapoisett." And with the pending Memorial Day Holiday this coming weekend, it's appropriate that we recognize the sometimes overlooked efforts of the one man we can always expect to be leading everyone in exercises to honor our country's veterans.

Past Mattapoisett recipients of this honor have been: Maurice "Mudgie" Tavares (1994); Priscilla Alden Hathaway (1995); Norma Holt (1996); Gale Hudson (1997); Kenneth Stickney (1998); Clara Morgan (1999); Betty and Bert Theriault (2000).

profile, political positions in town. But also like Mr. DeCosta, Lori Schaefer devoted equal amounts of her time on a voluntary basis to contribute to the overall quality of life in Marion and help its residents. Spanning some thirty years, her list of accomplishments include serving as an Emergency Medical Technician (EMT), a member of the Marion School Committee, a member of the Regional Community Congress, Chairman of Marion's Water Review Committee, and a dozen years as an elected member of the Board of Selectmen — a position from which she willingly stepped down this past year.

Arguably her greatest accomplishment — and one of her more personal projects — was her effort to save and restore the Marion Music Hall, a historic landmark in the center of town which is a justifiable source of pride for residents. Lori Schaefer not only spearheaded the restoration of the building, but also remained its ersatz caretaker for the past two years ... keeping track of scheduling and maintenance at the facility on a volunteer basis and ensuring that this important landmark never again falls into disrepair. She will assist the current town fathers with selecting a part-time person to carry on those duties, and has also agreed to stay on as the Selectmen's representative to the Southeast Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD).

In nominating Ms. Schaefer for this award, a longtime Marion resident (who wished to remain anonymous) wrote: "Lori is one who has enriched the environment of those with whom, and for whom, she has served in so many public categories. To my longtime personal knowledge, she has truly been ... a public servant of the highest order." For these lesser-known and uncompensated efforts, Ms. Schaefer is a worthy recipient of Marion's 2001 Keel Award.

Past Marion recipients of this honor have been: Claire Russell (1994); Ralph and Phyllis Washburn (1995);

Ms. Chamberlain has long been an advocate of conservation and open space and has worked to protect the town's character and natural resources. In 1979 she spearheaded the purchase of shore line on Mary's Pond for use as a public recreational beach for Rochester residents ... a project for which she has been an ongoing supporter to this day.

Georgia has also worked with the Plymouth County Conservation Trust and Recreation Advisory Council, the Pilgrim Area Resource Conservation Development Council, and as a Trustee with the Plymouth County Cooperative Extension Service. She was also instrumental in creating a shared Regional Conservation Agent position. Ms. Chamberlain also went against popular opinion in supporting the establishment of the SEMASS facility in town in the 1980s ... a move that has since provided a guaranteed source of revenue for the Town of Rochester.

In nominating Ms. Chamberlain for this honor, a former Rochester resident wrote: "(Georgia) realized that we needed to protect our natural resources to ensure that it would be there for future generations. (She) has understood the unique balance between man and the environment long before it was the fashionable position to take."

Past Rochester Keel Award winners were: Joseph McCarthy (1994); Jean Fennell (1995); Katherine Hartley Church (1996); Chris Byron (1997); Albert Alderson (1998); Arthur and Aline Lionberger (1999); Kenneth E. Daggett (2000).

"High-Tech" Mattapoisett River Race

By Tim Smith

Since moving to Mattapoisett twenty years ago and being married to a lifelong native of the town I have enjoyed the many things the town has had to offer. I especially look forward to the yearly event sponsored by the Rochester Fire Department, the Mattapoisett River Race. Although I have never made the trek down the river myself — and probably never will — I have truly enjoyed the event from the spectator and supporter point of view. I have had several friends and relatives and even my own daughter go down the river several times over the years and I have always followed along with camcorders, cameras, and stopwatches as my wife would rush up and shout encouragement and drop water and oranges into the boats as they would pass popular checkpoints.

One of the spectator's most anxious moments is waiting for their friend or loved one to approach each of the checkpoints. It's not too uncommon to wonder if you have missed a boat or have not waited long enough for them to pass. To further complicate matters, try having two or more boats from the same family go down the river have try to keep track of them! It's easy to loose track of time and miss one or both of your family boats.

As an electronics and communications hobbyist and experimenter, I have been thinking of ways I could use technology to help in some way. The concept is not new nor have I invented anything — I just applied technology to a 100+ year-old boat race for an interesting twist. I built a small circuit that simply turns on a small radio transmitter momentarily. The signal is then read on a receiver that is roughly calibrated to determine the approximate distance away. I place a "homing transmitter" sealed in water-tight, high-tech Glad bags placed in even higher-tech Tupperware containers and, finally, using the best-know invention to man (duct-tape) to secure it to each boat.

The concept was tested at last year's race and I

Mattapoisett Annual Town Meeting

May 21, 2001

By Kenneth J. Souza

The Annual Town Meeting for the Town of Mattapoisett was called to order at 7:08 pm on Monday, May 21 in the auditorium of Old Rochester Regional High School by Town Moderator William Blasdale having noted the presence of a quorum of an estimated 220 voters.

After a Salute to the Flag and the introduction of the various town officials present onstage with him, Mr. Blasdale took the opportunity to thank Town Clerk Lois Ennis for her past 25 years of service to the town, noting that this would be her final Town Meeting in the wake of her recent decision to retire. Town Meeting members gave

Ms. Ennis a standing ovation.

Finance Committee (FinCom) Chairman Richard Gamache then made a brief presentation on the financial outlook for Fiscal Year 2002 (FY2002) given the pending items for consideration on the 35-article Town Meeting warrant. Mr. Gamache noted that for the most part the FinCom's recommended articles are "well under the four percent increase" for FY2002. If everything passed at Town Meeting, Mr. Gamache said the base tax rate would go from $14.96 per $1,000 this year to $16.36 per $1,000 in FY2002, or an increase of $1.40 (9.35 percent).

"That's a pretty hefty increase in our tax rate," he said. But he cautioned that the anticipated debt on the schools won't even affect the tax rate until 2002 or 2003. As such, an average home owner in Mattapoisett could expect their tax bill to jump from $3,000 annually to between $4,800 and $4,900.

On a more positive note, he did explain that the town received additional state aid which allowed them to cut planned overrides to fund both the local and regional schools. "We went back to the school committee and they cut from their budget," Mr. Gamache said. "All of the schools have been working to keep these budgets down." The large increase in the budget for Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School was due to the state formula used and because Mattapoisett saw an increase in enrollment at the school from 25 to 37 students. "This year was our turn," he said.

Under ARTICLE 1, voters were asked to set the

Mr. Gamache said these figures reflected a three percent increase overall. The three-month period for Town Clerk was to pay a temporary person until a full-time person was hired to replace Ms. Ennis. With that, voters unanimously approved Article 1.

Under ARTICLE 2, voters were asked to accept Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 48, Section 42, the so-called "Strong Fire Chief Law" as petitioned by Fire Chief Ronald Scott. Chief Scott, however, informed Town Meeting that he has since entered into a contract with the Board of Selectmen and has "covered all the issues." He moved to table the article indefinitely, thereby removing it from consideration from the warrant. The motion was passed unanimously without discussion.

Under ARTICLE 3, voters were asked to transfer $10,000 in available Free Cash into the town's Reserve Fund — an account which can be used as the FinCom's discretion for emergency expenditures. Likewise, voters were asked to approve a transfer of $20,000 from Free Cash into the Stabilization Fund under ARTICLE 4. Unlike the Reserve Fund, the Stabilization Fund can only be allocated via a two-thirds vote of Town Meeting for any unforeseen expenditures. Both articles were unanimously approved by voters.

In ARTICLE 5, voters were asked to amend the town's Personnel By-Laws to effectively exempt the following positions from the control of the Personnel Board: Assessors' Administrator, Police Chief, Town Accountant, Fire Chief, Police Lieutenant, and the Veterans' Agent. Selectmen Chairman Paul Lambalot explained that these were all supervisory, contracted positions which should not have been placed under the Personnel By-Law, and by removing them it would give the Board of Selectmen more latitude in negotiating contracts with prospective candidates.

"It's important for us to have flexibility in negotiating with them," Mr. Lambalot said. "People like to expect a three-year contract to give them some type of stability. Any raises or salaries that we agree to or negotiate are still subject to Town Meeting scrutiny."

"We decided there were arguments on both sides," said Bob Moore of the Personnel Board. "The fact is ... the Personnel Board worked very hard to put together a classification plan and by-laws. We'll do whatever the Town Meeting wants us to do. But the argument presented here tonight to exempt (certain employees) we just don't have a stake in. If you think they should stay with the (Personnel) Board, that's fine. If not, that's fine too."

Some Town Meeting voters questioned the need for a Personnel Board and By-Laws in the first place if the town isn't going to abide by them. But Selectman Lambalot explained that there were still in excess of 40 town employees who fall under the Personnel By-Laws.

"We can use the range set by Personnel Board as a guide," Selectman Lambalot said. "But the Personnel Board cannot enter into a contract."

After some further debate, the article finally passed via majority vote, 103 to 79.

Under ARTICLE 6, Town Meeting voters were presented with the proposed plans for expansion and renovation of the Mattapoissett Free Public Library as presented by members of the Library Board of Trustees and the Library Director. The plan is to conduct a combination of private and public fund-raising efforts to fund the project.

Under ARTICLE 7, voters were asked to consider and approve a total $14.29 million general operating budget for FY2002 and as per tradition, Mr. Blasdale asked voters to place "holds" on those line items for which they had questions. Among the questioned line items:

- Line Item 6, which proposed a 7.89 percent increase in the Executive Secretary's salary from $47,272 to $51,000. Selectman Andrews defended the increase, saying that they conducted a study of towns throughout Massachusetts similar in size to Mattapoissett and found that Ms. Adams was on the low end of the pay scale. "(The Board of Selectmen) felt that in comparison to like towns and like communities, we were grossly underpaying our Executive Secretary for the services she provides Mattapoissett," he said. "We felt we needed to bump her salary up."

- Line Item 27, which recommended $37,500 for Legal Expenses. Resident Brad Hathaway didn't oppose the paying of Town Counsel fees, he just felt the town fathers needed to be more forthcoming with what legal expenses were being paid for — especially lawsuits against the town. Selectman Lambalot agreed they would attempt to keep residents better-informed of this in the future.

- Line Item 29, which recommended a 36.95 percent increase in Computer/Payroll Services from $29,500 to $40,400 in FY2002. FinCom Chairman Gamache explained that much of this increase was due to computer maintenance agreements and a hike in payroll services with ADP.

- Line Item 39, which recommended a 24.55 percent hike in Conservation Commission Expenses to send newer ConCom members to various seminars and workshops to bring them up to speed on conservation issues.

- Line Item 55, which suggested a 15.61 percent boost in the Police Department budget from $125,250 to $144,800. According to Police Chief Mary Lyons, this increase was mainly due to costs of electricity, gas and fuel for the cruisers, along with the purchase a new cruiser which is about $4,000 more expensive than last

- Line Item 105, which suggested a 12.02 percent hike in Contract Services for Rubbish Pick-Up, from $66,950 to $75,000. Board of Health Agent Dale Barrows explained that the town's current rate with ABC Disposal has increased.

After answering all of the questioned line items, Town Meeting approved Article 7 via majority vote.

A great deal of debate and discussion was waged over ARTICLE 8, which asked voters to accept the provisions of Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 32B, Section 9D, which would obligate the town to pay one-half (50 percent) of the premium costs for the surviving spouse of a retired town employee for health insurance, and allocate $13,400 from the Stabilization Fund to cover these costs.

"Right now, (health) benefits terminate upon the death of the employee and their family must incur the costs of paying health insurance," explained Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson. "It's not unusual for towns to pay at least 50 percent, many pay up to 90 percent." Mr. Nicholson said there are currently seven people eligible in the Mattapoissett retirement system and the total associated costs would be $13,400.

"I don't think this is a money issue," said resident Gary Gaspar. "It's a moral obligation for the Town of Mattapoissett. To pick up the minimum 50 percent for retired employees who have worked for the town is the least we can do."

But FinCom Chairman Richard Gamache disagreed: "I think this is a ticking time bomb," he said. "We say seven people (now) ... but we're talking about all of the town's employees, their children, we're talking about all their families. As long as this town keeps growing (and) adding new programs, it's not going to bring the (tax rate) down."

After further lengthy debate, Article 8 was put to a vote and narrowly passed via a 77 to 74 majority. However, the funding of the Article would have to wait until the end of the Town Meeting to determine from where the $13,400 could be allocated.

Under other articles, Town Meeting voters approved:

- Authorization for the Treasurer and Tax Collector to conduct Compensating Balance Agreements with local banking institutions under ARTICLE 9;
- Authorization for the Board of Selectmen to execute and deliver individual indemnity agreements for the members of the call fire department and reserve police officers under ARTICLE 10;
- $600 allocation from Free Cash for the Tri-Town River Committee (ARTICLE 11);
- $2,000 allocation from Free Cash for the New Bedford Women's Center (ARTICLE 12);
- $1,239 allocation from Free Cash for the Buzzards Bay Action Committee (ARTICLE 13);
- The establishment of a Recreation Revolving

CLOSING AND THE SELLER

If you are about to close the sale of your home, there are steps you should be aware of to make the closing as smooth as possible.

Normally, you and your attorney will be responsible for drawing the new deed and bringing this document to the closing. The purchase of tax stamps may also be necessary. You will need a copy of your most recent tax bill, which should be receipted as if it has been paid. If the insurance or mortgage is to be assumed by the new buyer, you will need these payment books, policies, etc.

When the sale involves income, as for rental properties, the seller should bring leases, rent schedules, escrow statements for deposits held and a letter to be sent to tenants notifying them of the ownership change. Of course, you would also bring keys, garage door openers, and the like to the closing.

If you choose our agency to handle the sale of your home, you'll be sure that all the bases will be covered. Then you can walk out with cash in hand and celebrate.

Water/Sewer Superintendent Nicholson explained that the total project would cost an estimated $2.58 million and this additional money would be used as a "safety cushion" for the project and may not be used if the bids come in under their estimates. The money would later be returned to town coffers through betterments assessed to residents;

- $160,000 to be used to conduct engineering for the sewer connections to the sewer line being extended from Old Rochester Regional High School to Oakland Street near Church Street under ARTICLE 20. BECOMING A VETERINARIAN

My daughter wants to be a veterinarian. I have not been encouraging her as it seems to be a profession dominated by men.

Actually 2 out of 3 veterinary students are female. By all means, encourage her.

What kind of education is required to become a veterinarian?

Generally speaking, 4 years of college followed by 4 years of vet school. A graduate can then enter practice or, if they wish to specialize, perform an internship and residency.

• $63,068.73 reappropriation from previous Town Meeting articles to be used to fund sewer engineering for the so-called Buzzards Bay Water Preservation Project. "We had an article in 1998 appropriating (money) to complete this project but we need additional funds," Mr. Nicholson said.

• $37,000 transfer from Water Retained Earnings to replace the water main line on Mattapoisett Neck Road with a 12-inch line to bypass the existing line (ARTICLE 22);

• $115,000 appropriation to install a new water main from Acushnet Road to Old Hammondtown School on Shaw Street. (ARTICLE 23);

• Motion from Library Trustee Bob Atkinson to table ARTICLE 24, which would have requested $7,754.38 to cover money previously paid from the Library's State Aid Account to pay the outgoing Library Director's remaining salary;

• $10,000 transfer from the Waterfront Retained Earnings for maintenance and repairs to the town wharfs (ARTICLE 25);

• $3,000 transfer from Waterfront Retained Earnings for engineering, permitting and design on the Harbormaster's Building (ARTICLE 26). According to Harbormaster Steve Mach, this work would include upgrading and expanding the bathrooms to make them handicap-accessible and provide additional storage and supply space.

• Acquisition of the Railroad Right of Way Property and a related $45,000 Capital Outlay Expenditure Exclusion (subject to a Special Town Election ballot question on June 16) related services under ARTICLE 27. The method of taking the railroad property by eminent domain was a bone of contention for many Town Meeting voters ... and there was a great deal of discussion and

If everything progresses as planned, Steve Kelleher of the Mattapoisett Bike Path Committee said Phase 1 of the project — encompassing the path from the Fairhaven town line to Mattapoisett Neck Road — should begin in the Spring of 2002. Rochester Country Fair

Final preparations for the 2001 Rochester Country Fair are well underway. In case you missed the fun last year, the Rochester Country Fair is a community-supported continuation of last year's Millennium Celebration. The fair is slated to run from Wednesday, August 15 through Sunday, August 19 at Plumb Corner Mall in the town's center.

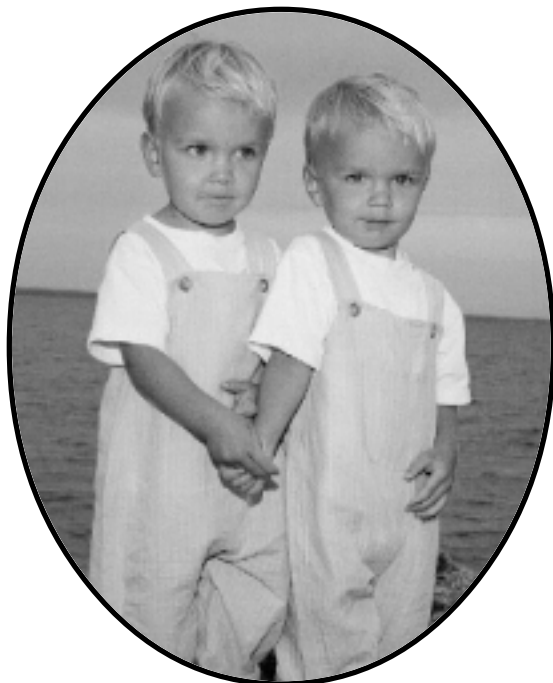

Currently, the Rochester Country Fair Committee is looking for demonstrations of skills and unique collectors who are willing to show their stuff on the Country Fair Day, Saturday, August 18. Perhaps you're a blacksmith, wood carver, or you enjoy quilting, or perhaps you have a personal collection you would like to display. The committee is looking forward to adding your specialties to the homegrown country fair.

They are also looking for volunteers to show their town spirit and become the target of the splash-tacular dunk tank! Everyone is invited to warm up their pitching arm!

The fair will kick off Wednesday evening, August 15 with a town ball game — actually a rematch between the Rochester Police Brotherhood and the Rochester Fire Association. Thursday, August 16 is the town's Senior Picnic to be held at Plumb Corner. The Woodsman Show will be featured on Friday evening, August 17.

Saturday, August 18 is the Country Fair Day, which has something of interest to everyone: even the newest generation can participate in the baby face and baby crawl contest. Last year's favorites will be carried over to this year, such as the sack and three-legged races,

Sippican Women's Club

The Sippican Women's Club meetings, held throughout the autumn and winter months, have often been interrupted by prospective patrons of Handy's Tavern in Marion. In search of food and beverage, the visitors have instead provided humorous repast for the ladies gathered for light lunch and lecture.

New officers for the upcoming year were recently elected at the annual luncheon held April 27 at the Beachmoor in Buzzards Bay. Julianne Schworm was elected President, Eileen Merlino is First Vice President, Deborah Bush is Second Vice President, Barbara Leister is Recording Secretary, Judy Carver as Corresponding Secretary, Priscilla Ditchfield is Treasurer, and Ruth Bolton was elected Assistant Treasurer.

The Sippican Women's Club, open to any Marion woman, has provided college scholarship funds for Marion students through the Holiday House Tour, the major fund-raising event held by the group each December.

More than 18,000 Massachusetts girls have participated in this citizenship program since its inauguration in 1945. Two hundred and eighty girls from all parts of the state will participate in the week's study of Local and State Government.

To be eligible for Boys or Girls State, a student must be a member of the junior class who has been successful academically. Delegates must also show evidence of leadership ability and an interest in the democratic process. At the convention, delegates will establish and operate state government in miniature. This will include forming two political parties, holding conventions, nominating candidates, conducting campaigns, and electing officials. The primary goal of Boys and Girls State is a better understanding of how State Government functions.

At the Boys and Girls State Sessions in each state, two representatives will be selected to represent their respective states at Boys and Girls Nation to be held in Washington, DC later this summer.

show on Friday, May 25. Members of the Marion Garden Discussion Group will create floral interpretations of the artwork.

The exhibition titled "Nine Sage Brushes," features images of New England and the Southwest and opens at the Art Center on May 25 with a reception to meet the nine women artists from 6:00 to 8:00 pm. Laura Anderson, a professional artist who lives in Mattapoisett, has been attending workshops in New Mexico, led by Lois Tarlow, along with the rest of the group for many years. This is the first time the nine have shown together.

Ms. Tarlow, a graduate of Goucher College and Boston Museum School, has taught and lectured in many schools, colleges and other institutions throughout New England and the Southwest. Her work has been shown in numerous galleries and is included in public and private collections like the Boston Public Library, Museum of Fine Arts and Fogg Museum, and Harvard, to name a few. She currently lives in Newton, MA. For the past ten years she has taught Summer Workshops in Taos, New Mexico.

She writes: "At the end of September, there is a Harvest Festival at the Taos Pueblo where women, in their native garb, do a shuffling dance in tight clusters like sheaves of grain moving in the breeze. When I think of the way the nine of us have become a cohesive group as a result of our landscape workshop, the image comes to mind. We are aware of the pervasive spirituality in the culture and the varied natural features — the Rio Grande Gorge, the mesa, the high mountain aspen and meadows. It is this ancient, mystical aura along with the forms, colors, textures, and light that draw us here to paint together each summer in northern New Mexico. Beyond this magnetism, there exists a strong, common bond that encourages each of us to respond to this world as individuals. It is hard to believe that nine years ago, we didn't even know each other."

The bond is shared by an impressive group of professional women artists whose resumes are too extensive to cite here. They include: Laura Anderson (of Mattapoisett), Anne Lloyd Dupont (Lee's Summit, Montana), Janice Colby (Boxford, MA), Teri Hensick (Boston, MA), Suzette Alsop Jones (Dover, MA), Linda Mahoney (Northfield, MA), Sherry Poirrer (Amherst, MA), and Candace Reed Stella (Newton, NH).

The "Nine Sage Brushes" show will be on display in both galleries at the Marion Art Center through June 27. Gallery hours are Tuesday through Friday, 1:00 to 5:00 pm; and Saturday 10:00 am to 2:00 pm. The MAC is located at the corner of Main and Pleasant Streets in Marion and admission is FREE.

MOVIE REVIEW

Fractured Fairy Tale

By Rob Gonsalves
<http://robsreviews.cjb.net>

Shrek. With the voices of Mike Myers, Eddie Murphy, Cameron Diaz, and John Lithgow. Directed by Andrew Adamson and Vicky Jenson. Running time: 89 minutes. MPAA rating: PG. At Cinema 12 at the North Dartmouth Mall and Flagship Cinemas in New Bedford.

If you're in the mood for a postmodern, ironic fairy-tale spoof, and if you're young enough not to have seen what went before (Fractured Fairy Tales, The Princess Bride, Shelley Duvall's tongue-in-cheek Fairie Tale Theatre, Into the Woods, The Stinky Cheese Man, etc.), you might have a good time at the new DreamWorks computer-toon Shrek. Or maybe you won't; like DreamWorks' Antz, this movie goes so far in including hip references to amuse bored parents that I'm tempted to say Shrek isn't even really for kids. At the Friday-afternoon, packed-with-kids screening I attended, an extended riff on the "Muffin Man" ditty got no laughs at all; not much else did either, aside from tired fart and butt humor.

Shrek is based, more or less — more less than more — on a 1990 children's book by legendary cartoonist William Steig. Its conversion into an expensive kiddie flick painted with bits and bytes may remind some of the unhappy fate of Chris Van Allsburg's brisk, haunting book Jumanji, turned into a flabby Robin Williams vehicle. Shrek isn't as bad as that; some of it is diverting (I enjoyed the scenes dealing with a love-smitten dragon, coyly fluttering its huge eyelashes). But I can't imagine it occupying a warm space in children's hearts, since it parodies clichés they've only just begun to absorb. Can't we allow kids a few years of innocence before we pop their balloon with the ever-ready pin of irony?

Mike Myers indulges his Scotophilia yet again, bringing his cheerful brogue to the lead character Shrek, a green ogre who wants to be left alone to mope in his swamp. Problem: the nasty Lord Farquaad (the usual hammy voice work by John Lithgow) has banished all fairy-tale creatures from his kingdom, and they have all taken refuge in Shrek's stomping grounds. To restore them to their homes, Shrek must undertake a quest on Farquaad's behalf: rescue the fair Princess Fiona (voice by Cameron Diaz) from a dragon's lair, with the help of a talkative donkey (Eddie Murphy, enjoying this stage of his career as an entertainer at children's parties).

Shrek moves fast, and its quartet of credited writers (including two who worked on Disney's Aladdin and DreamWorks' Small Soldiers) keep the pop references popping. Much has been made of the fact that DreamWorks co-founder Jeffrey Katzenberg may be sending a poison valentine to his former bosses at Disney, and indeed the Mouse comes in for some swatting; when the donkey begins to segue into a heartfelt song, he's rudely cut off by Shrek, who insists, "No singing" — an obvious swipe at Disney's penchant for Oscar-ready ballads. Shrek bends over backwards to assure us that it won't be as square as Disney's stuff.

That's nice, but it doesn't assure us of much else. Too much of Shrek seems like gags dreamed up by jaded adults. One scene, in which Princess Fiona makes short work of Robin Hood's Merry Men, includes a poke at The Matrix and its crouching-tigress-hidden-wires, frozen-in-mid-air battles. First problem with this: the Matrix money shots have already been overparodied. Second, what kids would have seen the R-rated Matrix in order to get the joke? It's there for Mom and Dad. Third, Princess Fiona's battle skills are established here but then never repeated; in a later scene, when surrounded by Farquaad's guards, she's suddenly helpless.

The movie is capably designed and enthusiastically voiced, though computer-generated animation still hasn't yet lost its creepy plastic sheen (compare it with the advanced yet homey Claymation seen in Chicken Run, for instance). I cannot — perhaps it is a function of my age — look at movies like Shrek (or Toy Story) without being aware that I'm watching digital shadows; the characters seem locked behind Plexiglas, untouched and untouchable. Untouching, too. Shrek gestures towards a typical humanistic message (Don't judge others by their appearance), but the story is too busy trashing other legends and archetypes to emerge as a legend of its own. One can't help thinking that The Princess Bride did it earlier and funnier, and did not take five years in the making or involve armies of techies sitting in front of Macs. There's no real reason Shrek couldn't have been a regular, drawn cartoon; there's little reason it couldn't have just stayed a book, either. If computer animation is all that sets it apart, then it doesn't have much setting it apart.

Worthwhile Paws

By Kenneth J. Souza
movies@wanderer.com

Throughout the tri-town area, there are many worthwhile causes and organizations. But one demographic that sometimes slips under our collective radar are those we often view as members of the family, but who can't speak up or fend for themselves. I, of course, am referring to our furry pet companions — those faithful examples of "man's best friend" and our purring feline house mates. Sensing a need to help ensure that every prospective pet finds a good home in the area, a small group of people in Marion banded together and formed PAUS (People Assisting Unwanted Strays) some two years ago.

Spearheaded by Marion Town Clerk/Treasurer/Collector Debra Blanchette and Animal Control Officer Susan King, the makeshift organization oversees and administers a trust fund within the town budget to accept donations from residents to cover the costs of sheltering and providing medical attention to stray animals which are picked up within town by Ms. King and her staff.

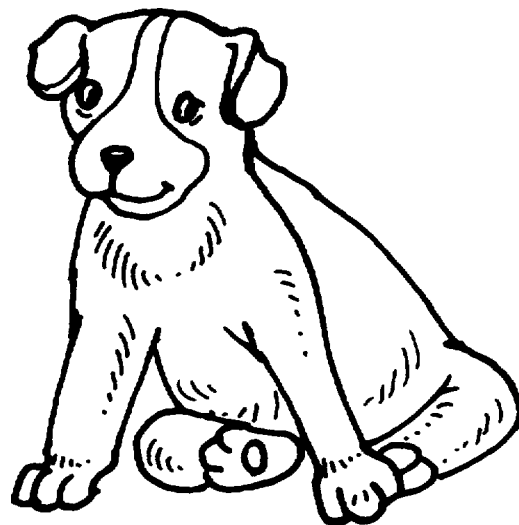

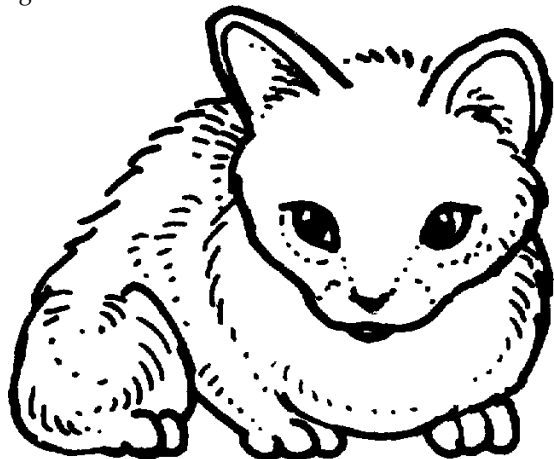

Ms. Blanchette explained that she established a line item account to collect voluntary donations from residents for the PAUS effort.

"It's sort of an all-around, catch-all fund," Ms. Blanchette explained. "It was started with a $10 donation received on August 25, 1998. The money is used for different services ... in one case, there was a woman who was sick and PAUS took care of her dog while she was in the hospital."

"At first we had put several very nice dogs to sleep, because their time period had run out and the town was unable to pay," Ms. King said. "(Some) had various medical expenses. Heartworm is very common in strays that we find and is very expensive (to treat)."

Both Ms. Blanchette and Ms. King decided that there should be a voluntary fund to receive donations from people to help support the stray and unclaimed animal population in Marion.

"Debbie and I just started working on it and talking to people," Ms. King said. "The PAUS fund has helped so many people and so many animals. I can think of four dogs immediately who received money that extended their stay, or gave them a life-saving treatment."

Also instrumental in assisting the PAUS effort is Dr. Robert Tremblay of the Marion Animal Hospital, who provides needed veterinarian services to the found pets until they are returned to their rightful owners or placed with a new family.

"(PAUS) was started to help some of the animals find homes," Dr. Tremblay said. "It's a low-key effort to help place strays. We really don't have that many strays in Marion ... (but) Susan is really good at finding homes for them."

Dr. Tremblay said he provides medical attention to those strays which are picked up within Marion and PAUS helps fund any needed treatment and also covers the cost of sheltering the animals until they are placed or replaced into a home.

"Obviously the animals I pick up are in tough shape, (most are) not neutered or spayed, and dogs generally have heartworm and are usually flea and tick infested," Ms. King said. "We try to get them stabilized, to get them eating, and then try to locate the owner. We also start trying to network and look for people to adopt them. Under state law (the town can only) hold a dog for ten days, a cat for three."

Ms. King said that money from the PAUS fund can help "buy some time" for these animals and perhaps reunite them with their owners ... or find them a new home. The alternative is to put the once-happy pets to sleep.

"We had one beagle that came in this year, and it took me a week just to get her to come to me," Ms. King said of one dog who had apparently been abused. "The PAUS fund paid for her to be spayed, and she's still very timid, but a person adopted her (and she now) has a very good home."

Those interested in making a donation to PAUS should send it to PAUS Fund, c/o Marion Town Treasurer Debra M. Blanchette, Marion Town House, 2 Spring Street, Marion, MA 02738. Please make checks payable to "Marion PAUS Fund." For more information about PAUS and adopting stray animals, you can also call Ms. Blanchette at 508-748-3505 or Ms. King through the Marion Police Department at 508-748-1212.

Rapunzel has a cell phone. Her princess has a condo. Her Humpty Dumpty raps. And fitting with the times she has a new partner to rhyme ... Father Goose (played by her real-life husband of 18 years, Shawn Paris). Together with their two real-life children — Kira (age 12) as Sister Goose and Tatiana (age 8) as Baby Goose — they form The Goose Family. Homeschooling their children as they travel, they perform over 250 exciting, entertaining and educational live shows nationwide every year. Their children's television show "Mother Goose's Enchanted Tea Party" was nominated for an Emmy Award and just received the coveted Parents' Choice Award. They have been featured on CNN, Headline News, and Good Morning America and recently Mother Goose (Janine Paris) was honored nationally by Child Magazine as "Mom of the Month."

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Love rules the amorous Aries. So do make those Sheep's eyes at someone you'd like to know better. (A loving Leo, perhaps?) And don't be surprised at what follows.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You might enjoy your time at home decorating and redecorating all you like. But friends old and new won't accept "regrets" to their invitations. So go out and have a great time.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) You need someone who appreciates you. If this person is already in your life, congratulations. If not, don't settle for anyone who doesn't value you.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A previous problem is cleared up soon to your advantage. Meanwhile, give your self-confidence a much-needed boost by taking on a tough project that you know you can handle.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You're often picked to lead in a group situation. But that can cost you time and energy that you might want to spend elsewhere. Feel free to decline.

They'll still love the Big Cat.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You're usually the staid-and-steady sort. But the adventurous side of you emerges, and you feel like doing something different and maybe a mite daring. Good for you.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You need more preparation before tackling a poorly performing venture. Research possible solutions. The more you know when you start, the more likely all will end well.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your work is noticed with approval. A promotion could follow. At home, there's some unexpected fallout from a family matter you thought had been cleared up.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A relationship you thought just needed time to ripen could be withering instead. It's not too late to save it with reassurances that it's still your priority.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your problem with accepting workplace-related changes will disappear once you accept the fact that — like it or not — change is part of progress.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Don't feel guilty about indulging in such luxuries as beauty treatments for yourself and beautiful things for your home. They bring joy to the soul — and you deserve them.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Don't keep a low profile about your project until you're sure it can succeed. You'll achieve more if you allow others to know what you've done and to share in the work.

BORN THIS WEEK: You move with a natural grace and elegance found in those who (like you) were born to dance. Children take to you and want to be your friend.

cially chosen because of their historical value to the people of the town and include the four former shipbuilding wharves adjacent to Shipyard Park, the lighthouse at Ned's Point, and the Herring Weir at the Mattapoissett River.

To glean the necessary background information for each panel, the members have thoroughly researched the town and state records, histories, and diaries while also viewing many old photographs that visually depict the early days of a growing town. Working with the commission members to coordinate the written word with pictorial references to create the overall computerized design layout of each panel is David Gould, owner of the Village Framery in Mattapoissett. The final acrylic overlay process will be done by a Canadian firm.

To date, two Mattapoissett families have each donated $1,000 in financial support for two of the wayside panels. Ms. Judith Gurney and Mr. David Jenney's donation toward the wharf panel is given to honor the memory of their father, Winfield Jenney, a native son who had a distinguished career of service to the town as both Harbormaster and Wharf Commissioner. Millot's donation is supporting the lighthouse panel that highlights the town's determination in helping mariners then and now through calm and stormy seas towards a safe harbor.

Should there be anyone else interested in donating some financial support toward the weir panel, the commission would be most appreciative. President Margaret DeMello can be reached by calling 508-758-2741.

With final preparations currently underway, the Mattapoisett Historical Commission hopes to soon complete the work involved and then plans to celebrate with the town at a dedication of the three completed panels when they are unveiled later this summer.
